OpenMRS Citations

This page serves as a resource for collecting citations for publications that are about OpenMRS or represent work/research directly related to OpenMRS. In other words, a list of publications generated by OpenMRS Community directly related to their involvement with OpenMRS. Following the IJMI references guidelines on reference formatting, please refer to existing citations on this page and the Samples of Formatted References for Authors of Journal Articles on the National Library of Medicine website for formatting examples. Use of DOI and linking to PubMed is encouraged. Please add citations in reverse order by publication date (oldest at the bottom).
